

BLAINE AND STANFORD.

The Washington correspondent of the San Francisco Post writes: They do say that the Blaine campaign for 1888 has opened in real earnest. Whether this is a fact or not, one thing is certain, and that is that there is a greater amount of activity noticeable now than there has been for many months in the Blaine camp. It is generally understood that the interests of Maine's Plumed Knight, as far as they relate to Washington, are in the hands of William Walter Phelps, so when Whitelaw Reid came here the other day and he and Phelps gathered the whole Blaine coterie around the bountifully prepared dinner table, there was no end of rumors started that the campaign had been really opened. It is said here that some of Mr. Blaine's friends have been quietly informed that there are serious defections in the West which must be patched up before he can expect the same support in the next convention as he had in that of 1884 in Chicago. The Pacific Coast is by no means as enthusiastic as it was two years ago. In case Senator Stanford could be persuaded to allow the use of his name, Blaine could not get a single vote from that section—at least, this is the talk which is being made by the visiting politicians from California at the Capitol. Stanford would be a strong candidate in the West particularly. He is one of the few public men who have been mentioned who could unite both wings of the Republican party. The Stalwarts remember that he was one of Grant's dearest friends, and that the dead commander upon more than one occasion expressed himself as being impressed that the Senator was one of the strongest men in the party. Then on the other hand, the remainder of the party can find nothing in his record to which exceptions can be taken. These facts are mentioned to show that there is a very dangerous contingency likely to threaten the Blaine strength in the West, and furthermore that his friends are fully alive to the real state of affairs. Blaine carried the last convention by a thorough and perfect organization. It is manifest to any one who will take the trouble to look at the situation that he will pursue the same tactics in relation to that two years hence.

Lloyd Tavis called on the President last Friday and was received in the library, where he passed some time in conversation with the President. Mr. Cleveland referred to the invitation of Governor Stedman, for the President to visit the California State Fair in September, and Mr. Tavis urged him to accept. The matter was discussed seriously, the President asking many questions about the overland trip. The great objection was that the trip would take up all his vacation, but the President said he would like to go, and it is thought not improbable that he will do so.

The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision in the case of R. Sherman and others, of Dakota, in which he reverses the decision of Commissioner Sparks, and holds that Sherman, who held a second mortgage on a tract of land the entry of which had been cancelled by the Land Office, was a party in interest, and had such standing in the case that he might be heard to maintain the validity of the entry in question.

One result of the advent of the entrance tourists among us is the stoppage of publication in the newspapers of the overland passenger lists. The Chronicle, Post, Call, Alta, Examiner, Bulletin and Record-Union have agreed not to pay for or publish the arrivals hereafter. A column of names a day telegraphed became uninteresting and unprofitable and crowded out live news.

Democrats of Oregon are confident of carrying the State election in June. It is complimentary to the enthusiasm of the Oregon Democrats that they always blink they can win.

CRYSTAL WEDDING.
Or Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Osbiston, at Idaho Springs, Colorado.

A delayed number of the Idaho Springs News, of April 30, gives the following, which will be read with interest by the numerous friends of Colonel Osbiston and his estimable wife in this section, where they formerly passed some of the happiest and most prosperous years of their life:

The crystal wedding of Colonel and Mrs. F. F. Osbiston, last Monday evening, was an elegant affair in every particular. Their beautiful home was thronged with guests from home and abroad. The monogram, "F. F. O.," and dates of 1871 and 1886 in crystalized work, was very attractive and added much to the decoration of the rooms. Music was furnished by Professor Pepin's Orchestra, and dancing was the amusement of the night. The presents were too numerous to mention, and were elegant in the extreme. Friends in New York and San Francisco had remembered them and sent exquisite gifts. There were wine sets in crystal, claret and amber, fruit and flower stands in all conceivable shapes and shades, mounted on silver, painted plaques and vases, and rare imported articles. If one is aware of the art that has perfected decoration at the present time, he may possibly imagine how beautiful this collection appeared on tables of red plush and the light blending of many colors together. Mr. and Mrs. Osbiston were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Osbiston, of London, who are here on an extended visit.

The News gives the names of the numerous guests present, but as nearly or quite all are strangers to people here it would be of no interest to publish them. It also gives the costumes of the ladies, of which we will merely copy those of Mrs. Osbiston and daughter Bessie:

Mrs. F. F. Osbiston, magnificent costume of cream satin brocade, with point lace and a profusion of crystal ornaments; diamonds.

Bessie Osbiston, white lace dress, cream satin ribbons.

The Administration's Choice for the Paris Consulate.

The office of Consul-General to Paris is one of the most important as well as lucrative positions in the consular service of the Government. President Cleveland has not yet selected a Democrat for this place, but an appointment will soon be made and the lucky man is said to be Colonel L. Diller, of Chicago. Colonel Diller was Consul at Bremen during the administration of President Buchanan, and his training there will be of service to him in Paris. Over 9,000 applications have been made to the State Department since Mr. Bayard became Secretary for consular positions, and of this number about 800 were for the Paris Consulate. The administration believes that extensive frauds on the revenue, involving perhaps $10,000,000 per annum, have been committed by undervaluations in the matter of imports from France alone, and it is desired to have a Consul in Paris who will look closely after the trade between France and the United States.

The standard fineness of gold (United States coin) is 900, pure gold being 1,000. As expressed by the old system the present standard is 21.6 carats fine. A $5 dollar gold piece fresh from the mint weighs 129 grains, in the proportion of 116.1 grains of pure gold to 12.9 grains of alloy. The fineness of the standard silver dollar is 900, the pure metal 1,000. The weight of a standard dollar 412.5 grains, in the proportion of 371.25 grains of pure silver to 41.25 of alloy.

In the Easter collection taken up in Grace Church, New York, was a lady's check for $45,000, given by Miss Wolf. That church owes wolf, knowing that there is one.—Alta.

This is the same lady who gave the $10,000 to Bishop Whitaker to start the "School for Girls," in Reno.

Patti's marriage which is to take place at the French Consulate on June 7th, promises to be a grand event in the theatrical and artistic world. Over 500 guests have been invited to attend the wedding celebration on June 10th, at Cragg Nos.

The establishment of harmony between Lord Harrington and Chamberlain is believed to assure the defeat of Gladstone's Home Rule bill.

Ex-Alderman Jaehne, of New York, has been found guilty of bribery.

EX-PRÉSIDENT ARTHUR.
A Sudden Collapse Liable to Occur at any Moment.

New York, May 14.—The Tribune says: Ex-President Arthur was worse yesterday than he has been for several days. He suffered severely from pain in the back, and it is feared that he may have been exposed to a draft and so caught cold. There was nothing alarming in his condition, but the manner in which his system succumbs to the slightest baneful influence is thought to indicate that the improvement which has been noticeable in his case for the last ten days has only been fictitious and that there is danger of a sudden collapse at any moment.

Scoring Jeff Davis.

Stanton Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of Los Angeles, has passed resolutions strongly condemning the utterances of Jeff Davis as those of an imbecile old man, and especially deprecating his reception by the people. On this point they say: "The people of the South should remember that not one of their leaders who raised his hand against his country's banner but had a father who would have died for it, and their recent conduct in welcoming this arch traitor shows bad faith on their part and forces the conviction that they did not in good faith accept the generous and chivalrous terms offered by the hero of Appomattox."

An Apt Remark.

During a debate in the House of Commons on Friday, L. J. Jennings said: "The people in England have heard a good deal about the Free Trade party of America. As a matter of fact, all the Free Traders in any American State might be put into a one horse omnibus without any inconvenience either to themselves or the horse."

The bill reported from the Senate Committee on Commerce in aid of the Eads ship railway limits the liability of the United States to $7,500,000, to commence only when the road is completed and its practicability demonstrated. The United States is to guarantee that the two-thirds of the net income will amount annually to $3,500,000 for five years after the completion of the road, not exceeding in the aggregate $7,500,000, but has no interest in the company or in the road. It is claimed by friends of the bill that the United States will not be called upon for any sum under the guaranty. A minority of the committee, among whom were Senators Dolph and McMillan, did not join in the report or favor the bill. Senator Dolph says, however, that he is seriously considering whether the interests of the Pacific Coast do not require that he shall support the bill in the Senate, inasmuch as he considers the Nicaragua canal project suspended, as long at least as there is a Democratic administration.

Dying of Hydrophobia.

New York, May 13th.—Jacob Hertling, a prosperous German builder, dying at his home in Brooklyn of hydrophobia. For a year his children have had for a playmate a handsome Newfoundland dog. Two months ago it bit Hertling on the right hand between the thumb and forefinger. The wound was cauterized and healed. Yesterday morning Hertling said he was not well and asked his wife to give him some medicine. It was a liquid, and when he saw it he began to tremble. Then he snarled at his wife and began a low barking noise. Since then his suffering has been terrible. The doctors injected brandy and morphine. His convulsions were frequent and after he came out of them he begged the doctors to give him a poisonous draught. Two strong men walked him about the room, but could not allay his sufferings.

THE WEIGHT OF MAIL MATTER.—Jerri Nicholas, who has been weighing the mails at Winnemucca for the last six weeks, reports that the weight of mail matter received in that time was as follows: Received from the west 2,054 pounds; forwarded west 1,311 pounds; received from the east 2,273 pounds; sent east, 1,124 pounds. There has been a great falling off in the weight of mail matter received and forwarded at this place since the mail service to Boise City and Paradise Valley was reduced.—Silver State.

It is singular what a shrinkage in values has taken place in Elko county since the Assessor started on his rounds.—Elko Independent.

MR. MASON'S LETTER.
He Does Not Want the Nomination for Congressman.

Lyon County Times.
FRIEND FAIRBANKS.—In your last issue you name me as your choice for the Republican nominee for Congress. I thank you for your friendly feeling, but shall speedily convince you that such a nomination is out of the question, because I shall never ask permission of the leaders of any party to run for office. I shall not bow down to the bosses, nor visit the Palace Hotel in San Francisco with my hat in my hand, nor the corner of Fourth and Townsend streets, nor the Virginia and Truckee Railroad Depot to inquire if I may be a candidate. So, even if I believed that I could fill the place with honor to myself and credit to the State, I could not on any account resort to the tricks and trades which seem to be essentially necessary in order to gain a nomination from a party convention. I am a Republican, and during the war, and for several years after was straight in my allegiance to party. Of late years, however, I have not placed party above principle and the welfare of the people. I am radical on the Chinese question. I would not only absolutely exclude this debased and dangerous race from American soil, but I would return every one of them now here to the place whence they came at the expense of the Government there to remain forever and ever. I am in favor of protection to American industry, but I know, as everybody knows, that the tariff needs amending and revising, and I believe that Congress should cease its little bickering and strive for party advantage, and attend to this duty like business men for the good of the country. I am not opposed to corporations in general nor railroads in particular, and would do them no wrong, but I would so far as possible curb their power, prevent unjust discriminations, and it is a cardinal principle with me that railroads are common carriers and should not be permitted to charge more freights or passage for one mile than for two, or, as the phrase goes "for a lesser than for a greater distance." I don't believe in the doctrine of "competitive points." If I were in Congress I would vote as I believed to be right, whether it pleased my party or not, and I would not employ my time in "President making," but in attending to the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

From these brief remarks you will see at once that I am scarcely an eligible and not at all a probable candidate for the honorable position, which you would, I have no doubt, be pleased to see me hold. Very Respectfully,
H. S. Mason.

HOME PRODUCTION.

The Carson Tribune says:
Of late much newspaper talk has been had concerning the patronizing of tailor agents from abroad and the purchasing of female clothing in San Francisco and other outside cities, and, indeed, much reason exists for calling attention to the state of affairs in such matters, although each and every person is entitled to the right of purchase, but of all the outrageous antagonisms to home productions that ever was known in a State, Territory or Kingdom, the home made flour and soap manufacturing business is chief. In the town of Reno as fine flour is made as can be found the world over, but in order to find a market, the manufacturers are compelled to brand it as California production. In the same town Mr. Mulcahy, a practical soap maker, has to procure Eastern lumber for his boxes and mark his soap with some French or Italian name in order to dispose of it to Nevada dealers. There is no finer soap manufactured in the world than that referred to, still the fact of its being home production damps it in the estimation of the Nevada business man. If a parallel case can be found in the world's history during the present century, this writer would like to be informed of the fact. If the flour and soap referred to was of an inferior quality, some reason might be offered for its non-purchase, but all admit that no better article can be procured, and still a foreign brand is necessary to secure home purchasers. Not one sack of wheat need be shipped from this State California if home production was properly patronized, and not a week passes over that our loads of grain is not shipped from Carson and other valleys to the different parts of the sister State. As Rogers says, "There's something wrong in all this," and never can Nevada become permanently prosperous until a reform in such matters takes place.

SPOTTED FEVER.—Sheriff Fellows says that while in Paradise a few days ago he was informed that Dr. Powell was treating ten cases of spotted fever. The disease for some reason prevails to a greater extent than usual, and it is not known in the county outside of Paradise, Elko and Clover valleys. Some say it is contagious, while others, who have attended persons afflicted with the disease, say it is not.—Silver State.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Carson and Colorado Railroad Company was held at Hawthorne on the 13th instant, and the following Directors elected to serve for the ensuing year: H. M. Yerington, D. L. Bliss, W. D. Tobey, S. P. Smith, D. A. Bender, Alfred Helm and S. H. Wright. The Board elected the following officers: H. M. Yerington, President, D. L. Bliss, Vice President, D. A. Bender, Secretary, S. P. Smith, Treasurer. The following are the appointments: Robert J. Laws, Assistant Superintendent, E. B. Yerington, Assistant Secretary, D. A. Bender, General Freight and Passenger Agent, A. M. Artery, Superintendent of Telegraph, J. W. Hymie, Roadmaster, E. B. Pixley, Train Dispatcher, Haue Yerington, Purchasing Agent, George T. Bliss, Auditor and Paymaster.

A PAIR OF KIDS—A novel and unique bit of advertising is done in the distribution of small dodgers, or literally, ha dables, in the form of a pair of kid gloves, throughout the town, for the theatrical entertainment to be given to-morrow evening. On the back of each glove is printed the words, "A Pair of Kids, the greatest comedy success ever known," and also photographic portraits of Ezra Kendall and Joes Burton, constituting the pair of Kids, or something just as good.

REPORTED A BLOOD VESSEL—A Canadian dispatch of the 15th says W. F. Hoskins, well-known in Carson and on the Comstock as the Commodore and as a fine cornet player, while going to work on the night shift in the Mount Diablo mine, was taken with a coughing fit, during which he ruptured a blood vessel and died almost instantly.

STATE LAND OFFICE.—For the week ending May 14th—Applications for 1,100 51 acres were filed, 13 new contracts covering 2,080 acres completed and 8 patents issued embracing 1826.35 acres.

TWO COMETS IN SIGHT—Faint are two comets visible to the naked eye in the northern sky. These visitors, which are known to astronomers as the Fabry and Bernard comets will remain only a few evenings.

FRANK LEXLER'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE FOR JUNE 1888.—Is especially noticeable for its numerous full-page illustrations, some of which are exceptionally beautiful. The Luray Cave, in Page County, V., is the subject of several fine cuts. A beautiful picture is the reproduction of a painting by Augustin Lhardy, entitled "Preparations for a Day in the Country;" and a number of contrasted scene on the two rivers, the Rhine and the Hodson, give some idea of the beauty of these two streams. An antiquarian interest attaches to the article on the first edition of the "Pilgrim's Progress," with reproductions of its quaint engravings and a fac simile of the text. A beautiful reproduction of one of Giacomelli's bird pictures shows the helmet-crested humming-bird and its next. Many other beautiful pictures fill the number, while the literary portion is up to the high level of this favorite family magazine. Published by Mrs. Frank Leslie, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

THE LITTLE GIANT FENCE MACHINE FOR MAKING THE UNIVERSAL COMBINATION FENCE—DAVID YOUNG, PATENTEE.—Young and Jennings have just received one of those machines for which they have purchased the sole right to manufacture and sell this now universally known and guaranteed to be the best, most durable and portable fence ever manufactured, and peculiarly and especially adapted to fill a long felt want. This fence is needed and in time will be used by everyone that requires a fence, either around the house, garden or ranch. It is cheap, durable and serviceable, to keep in check horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, chickens, etc., and restrain dogs and coyotes, having all the advantages of a picket fence in restraining animals from jumping, and not so liable to decay, and at much less cost, and no bars to injure valuable stock, thus placing it far in advance of any other fence now in use—hence it is inevitably the fence of the future. Wherever this fence has been introduced it has superseded all others. It stands without a rival, and why? Because it is portable. A half mile of this fence may be taken down and removed in a few hours. The material may be hauled and a huge number of stacks fenced in a single day. Fields may be fenced for temporary pasturage to turn all kinds of stock, on short notice and but little labor. It is strong—it has been proven by actual test that it is six times stronger than barbed wire. It is durable—it will last three times as long as any other fence. It is hog proof, horse proof, coyote proof, rabbit proof. No fence hitherto tried, except this, will keep sheep in and dogs and coyotes out. It is cheap—in Ohio, Illinois, Missouri and other States where it has been introduced and extensively used it is declared to be from 30 to 40 per cent. cheaper than any other fence, and taking into consideration its durability, at least 50 per cent. cheaper. We can refer you to thousands who have used it—this is their testimony. We will be pleased to furnish, upon application, any information desired, and we think that we can demonstrate that our fence is all that we claim for it. It is the fence.

Apply to Young & Jennings, at the office of Statebaker and Carriage Agency, corner of Virginia and Second streets, Reno, Nevada.

Toledo Blade (R. p.): The signs multiply that the State of Indiana is swinging around into the Republic column. The Spring election showed large Republican gains. It is also worthy of note that in the State the Republicans now have 514 township Trustees to 185 Democrats, a gain for the former of 48 over 1884 and of 70 over 1882.

The Reno folks desire it to be known that a general turnout will be made to assist the Fourth of July celebration in Carson. There will be a perfect exodus of the riversiders to the metropolis of the State.—Carson Tribune.

The San Francisco Call says:
The people of Dakota are angry because Congress does not admit their Territory into the Union as a State. They have been holding a Constitutional Convention at Sioux Falls, before which, on the 5th inst., a resolution was adopted declaring that "if Congress shall adjourn without action upon the claims of Dakota for division and admission, or for division, the Constitutional Convention shall reassemble and submit to the people at the November election the question of the repeal of section 32 of the constitution, which prohibits the legislative, judiciary or executive departments from exercising any powers until recognized by Congress." The chances are that Dakota will not get into the Union at this session of Congress. The people of that Territory now manifest about the same state of mind that prevailed in California in 1850, when, for many months, our Senators and Representatives were kept out of Congress, while the slavery matter was being discussed. The idea of admitting another free State was then repugnant to a majority of Congress. Now the majority does not relish the admission of a new Republican State. Our people had patience, and matters all came out right in the end. Similar patience in Dakota will be rewarded by a happy termination.

Advice to Mothers.
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. (Feb. 21-1871)
